

Language assessment tests for aspiring outgoing students a.y. 2025/2026

An increasing number of foreign institutions require the possession of adequate linguistic skills to be able to carry profitably out the planned activities abroad. Some of them only accept official certifications issued by internationally recognized certifying bodies (such as IELTS, Cervantes etc...); others, instead, accept different types of certifications proving the language competences as well.

As a result, the assessment of linguistic skills represents one of the evaluation criteria of candidates used by the selection committees, also in relation to the prerequisites required by foreign institutions.

For selection purposes, it is necessary to attach to the online application form all the useful documents in your possession.

Students planning to apply to the Erasmus calls for study/traineeship purposes a.y. 2025/2026, are given the possibility to obtain (free of charge) a certification proving their knowledge of the foreign language by signing up for the tests supplied by Settore Sviluppo Competenze Linguistiche.
